

VISION

Urban Habitat envisions a world where low-income communities of color have the power to create stable, connected, and prosperous neighborhoods.

MISSION

Urban Habitat is a movement support organization working to democratize power and advance equitable policies to create a just and connected Bay Area for low-income communities of color.

OUR VALUES

- » Self-determination
- » Justice and equity
- » Solidarity
- » Sustainability
- » Diversity

THE GEOGRAPHY OF RACE AND OPPORTUNITY

The Bay Area has experienced tremendous growth over the past decade. Immense wealth has been generated for some while leaving low-income communities of color behind. Uneven investments have worsened inequality across the region, increasing housing insecurity and displacing many low-income people of color from their homes.

We must challenge the causes of these inequalities and the growth of resegregation. Urban Habitat helps build the power of marginalized communities and advocates for land use, housing, and transportation justice policies.
